

DENMARK

Denmark. Enjoy!

Index

Denmark
Copenhagen	4
Danish towns	6
Cruise	8
Cultural experiences	9
Active holidays	10
All seasons	12
Festivals	13
Events 2006	14
Online booking	15
Facts about Denmark	16

Quaint cobbled stone streets, bakery delicacies, and two converging seas – all just within a few kilometers

Denmark

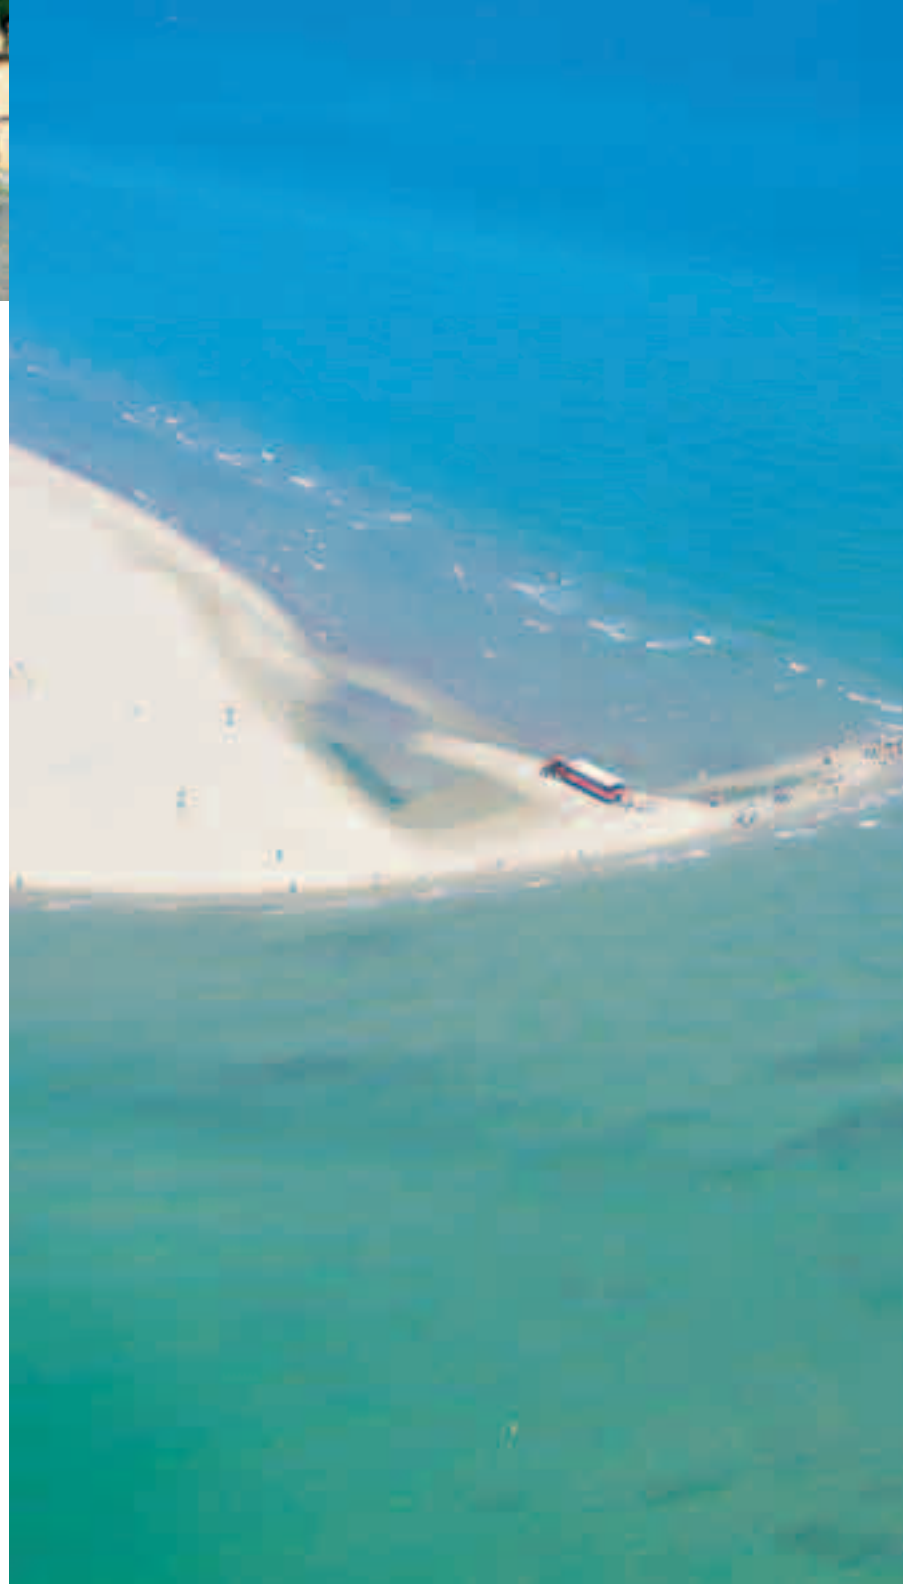

– Europe’s gateway to Scandinavia

Denmark is Europe’s gateway to Scandinavia. Surrounded by four seas, Denmark is an ancient seafaring nation. Throughout history, a steady stream of merchants and their vessels in and out of Denmark’s harbor have lent the nation a cosmopolitan air. Denmark’s landscape of rolling hills and valleys has been shaped by the forces of Ice Age glaciers.

Welcoming and beautiful, Denmark offers the best of all worlds. We have a royal heritage – with the oldest continuous monarchy in Europe – yet an unmistakable contemporary sensibility that’s reflected in our forward-thinking people as well as our architecture and design.

In 2006 Denmark celebrates its Renaissance Year, highlighting the age of King Christian IV, Denmark’s “Builder King,” with a blend of old and new events in museums and historic sites nationwide.

State-of-the-art infrastructure makes traveling in Denmark a delight whether you go by train, bus or plane. Motorists will find our road system accessible and convenient and traffic information clear and helpful.

A modern kingdom

Danes are friendly and respectful. We are proud of our country and welcome you with open arms to experience our nation.

It is easy to communicate with the Danes. English is our second language and is spoken everywhere you go. As a visitor here, you'll soon discover how smiles open doors and build bridges among people of all nations.

The Danes are very informal; you might spot our Crown Prince and Crown Princess at rock concerts, or find yourself having lunch next to the hottest stars or politicians at a café in Copenhagen.

Denmark is a country where you will feel at home. New ideas and trends from abroad play an important part in our modern life. It is a country that calls to the senses - relaxed, beautiful and welcoming.

Free city bikes are available in some major Danish towns. For a refundable deposit of 20 kroner you can go as you like!

Pedestrians streets, designer boutiques and lively cafés. Denmark is a shopper's paradise

Did you know... that we have long summer nights in Denmark where the sun doesn't set until after 10 pm?

Cultural experiences for all – even for the youngest. Several museums offer hands-on activities for creative children

A Danish café is a great place to meet for brunch, coffee, or a savoury dish

The Danish lifestyle, informal and easygoing perfectly suited for vacation

On the left: Kronborg Castle, is the magnificent Renaissance castle famed as the setting for Shakespeare's 'Hamlet', which is performed each summer in the courtyard

Living culture

Our cultural heritage is vibrant and alive. You will find distinctly modern events taking place at some of our historic sites.

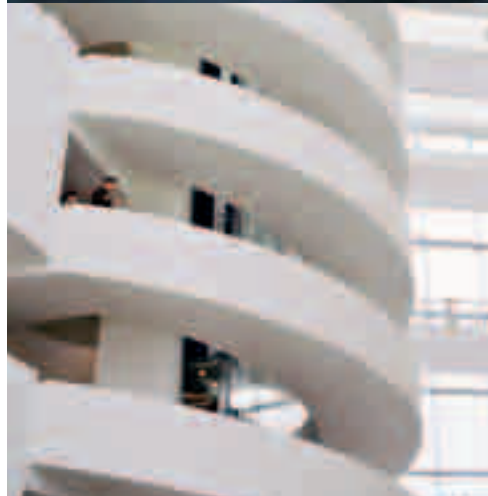

Kronborg, the Renaissance castle in Elsinore was made famous by Shakespeare's play Hamlet. During the summer you can enjoy open-air concerts at the annual Hamlet Festival held in the castle courtyard.

In Copenhagen the Royal Theatre best known for the Bournonville classic ballets also hosts concerts by contemporary performers such as Lou Reed and Rufus Wainwright.

Visitors to Copenhagen may suddenly find themselves part of the annual jazz festival while having coffee at a sidewalk café. A casual stroll around town might lead you to an outdoor exhibition or performance in a city square. Keep your eyes open!

While our museums will showcase world renowned pieces of artwork they will also showcase the Danish masters in both art and architecture. Two of Denmark's most famous architects Arne Jacobsen and Poul Kjærholm have had a strong influence on Danish design over the past four decades. This influence reaches far beyond the borders of Denmark and is still revered today.

Did you know... that it only takes 14 minutes by shuttle train from Copenhagen Airport to all the city's sights?

The bright summer nights in Denmark bring people to the street

ARoS Århus Art Museum – East Jutland's stellar attraction where you find Danish Golden Age art, contemporary art and exciting events

Danish design

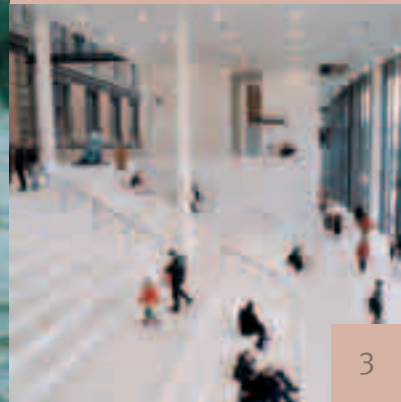

The clean lines and innovative shapes of Danish design make for world-class examples of form following function. Innovative stereo equipment is one example. Fashion another. Streamline but comfortable furniture is also a hallmark of Danish design.

Handsome creations in silver rendered either in classical or contemporary style is worked by craftspeople across Denmark and the shops of Copenhagen sell perhaps the most representative selection, although it is easy to find elsewhere.

Our tableware also has a distinctive identity. Bold shapes define our utensils and cookware. In porcelain and dishes, your choice is vast: Royal Copenhagen makes the classic patterns, while our younger designers create ceramic tableware in shapes and colors that defy convention.

As an American visitor you are able to claim back the Danish VAT you pay on your purchases when you take them home. The easy way to reclaim your VAT is at Copenhagen airport with Global Refund, for more information go to www.globalrefund.com.

The Danish way of living ranges from high fashion to extraordinary culture

The National Museum of Denmark in Copenhagen showcases Danish History in the grandest of settings

Copenhagen

– where time is on your side

Copenhagen is a cultural capital, where museums, concert venues, galleries and performance spaces compete for your attention. The many historic copper spires and the cobbled stone streets complement the modern day architecture of this vibrant city. Copenhagen is an ideal walking city. Enjoy a coffee and a Danish pastry in one of our many cafes.

Strøget is the main pedestrian shopping street for world-class fashion and design. As well as the necessities for the world-class traveler. The inviting side streets of Strøget will lead the traveler to the beautiful Latin Quarter.

Take a peek around the corner, and you will find the bustling café life of Nyhavn Canal. From here take a relaxing cruise on a Canal Tour and see the city from an entirely different angle where architectural wonders, new and old, reflect centuries of Copenhagen's history.

For your convenience Copenhagen provides free 'City Bikes'. At your own pace you can discover the exciting neighborhoods with their different lifestyle, design, and architecture.

VisitDenmark.com

Large photo: Old architecture meets modern fashion within a 10 minute walk from the National Museum of Denmark to the city's most trendy boutiques. Small photo: People-watching from a sidewalk café is often the best way to view the city life

Free city bikes – find out where they are located at www.bycyklen.dk

An evening out in Copenhagen

Copenhagen offers music for all: International classics at the new waterfront opera house, or the charming parade of Tivoli Gardens Boy's Guard

Opera lovers have every reason in the world to visit Copenhagen. The new opera house is the largest in Europe, and the acoustic is phenomenal. Remember to book ahead!

Tivoli Gardens! No visit to Copenhagen is complete without a trip to this historic "amusement park" where children – and the young at heart – can whirl from one amusement to the next. Marvel at the amazing Tivoli Gardens Boy's Guard Parade and the open Pantomime Theatre. Enjoy an ice cream, have a traditional open-faced sandwich or sit down and enjoy a gourmet dinner at one of the park's many restaurants.

Copenhagen has a thriving café and restaurant scene offering a world of choice. For younger urbanites, nightlife starts around midnight, especially on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. Here discreet and classical elegance meets trend-setting fashion.

An evening out in Copenhagen could also include a classical concert or a visit to one of our Jazz clubs. Sophisticated, friendly and informal – uniquely Scandinavian.

Colorful balloons in Tivoli Gardens

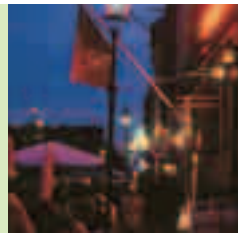

Copenhagen's must-sees:

- Tivoli Gardens
- The new opera house, OPERAEN
- The Little Mermaid
- Nyhavn Canal
- Ny Carlsberg Glyptotek
- Statens Museum for Kunst (The Danish National Gallery)
- The National Museum of Denmark
- Canal Tours
- Rosenborg Castle
- Christiania – the free town

Clubs, cafés and bars – a vibrant welcoming nightlife

The Royal Danish Ballet – from Bournonville classics to cutting-edge modern dance

Nyhavn Canal offers a unique waterside café environment

World-class Danish chefs turn culinary classics, such as freshly cooked seafood and garden sweet peas, into gastronomic works of art. Seasonal specialities are always well worth trying

The Danish towns

Each Danish town has a story to tell – reflected in its historical buildings, modern architecture, city museums -and quite simply its contemporary, everyday life. All Danish towns lie within a few hours from Copenhagen and could be visited on day-trips. But the best way to experience a Danish town is on an overnight stay. Then you can really appreciate what each place has to offer – day and night.

Århus – Denmark’s “second city”

Denmark’s second-largest city, Århus, is nestled between the forest and sea on the coast of East Jutland.

Among the highlights are the unique urban heritage museum Den Gamle By, “The Old Town,” which recreates the life of a bygone era in authentic settings, and the new ARoS Århus Art Museum with its bold contemporary architecture and exciting art collections.

The old university city of Århus also has a cozy Latin Quarter offering excellent shopping and a popular riverside neighborhood called “Vadestedet,” lined with cafés, restaurants and bars. The annual Århus Festival is known for its vibrant music scene and many cultural activities.

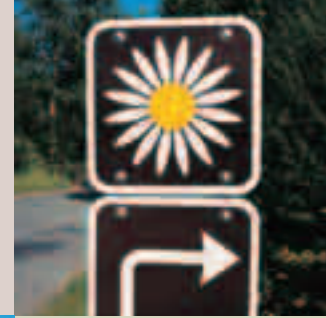

Enjoy your coffee with a wonderful Danish pastry

VisitDenmark.com

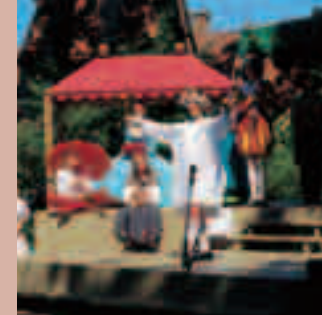

Walk in the footsteps of the famous storyteller Hans Christian Andersen. Experience the heart and soul of Denmark

Odense offers an enchanting small town experience as well as modern lifestyle and café life

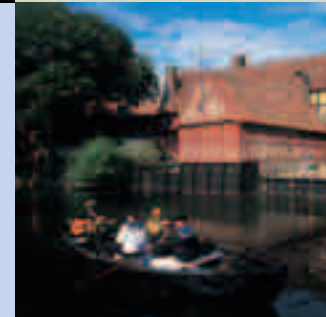

Hans Christian Andersen fairytales are staged at the Funen Village in Odense every year – here ‘The Emperor’s New Clothes’

The Marguerite Route is a picturesque drive through Denmark

The cultural life in Odense

Århus’ must-sees:

- AROS Århus Museum of Art
- The Old Town
- Vadestedet
- Cathedral of Saint Clemens
- Moesgård Museum – featuring ethnographic and archaeological collections
- Botanical Gardens
- The Women’s Museum

History brought to life in the Old Town of Århus – and modern-day entertainment by the city’s riverside promenade, Vadestedet

Odense – Hans Christian Andersen’s hometown

At the heart of the lush island of Funen, you will find Denmark’s third largest town, Odense. Fairytale writer Hans Christian Andersen was born here in 1805. The town is still as enchanting as ever – not least Andersen’s childhood home, which now is a museum. In Odense you can also find the open-air rural heritage museum, “The Funen Village.”

There is a sense of miniature world in the ‘old town’ with its many trendy boutiques. The cultural heart of town is the exhibition center Kunsthallen Brandts Klædefabrik, which features Danish and international art. Treat yourself to a trip out of town to a true fairytale Funen castle, Egeskov, complete with moat and vintage car museum.

Aalborg – Celebrates July 4th

The July 4th. Celebration in the hills of Rebil Bakker is the largest U.S. Independence Day celebration outside America. Over 10.000 people sing, eat and listen to July 4th speeches.

The North Jutland town of Aalborg, situated beside the Limfjorden inlet, is famed for its rich cultural life and energetic nightlife. The town is also home to Nordjyllands Kunstmuseum (the art museum), Jens Bangs Stenhus, a Renaissance merchant’s home, and the 15th-century Abbey of the Holy Spirit, Helligåndsklosteret. The old-world heart of town includes a pedestrian zone filled with excellent shops and boutiques.

In Aalborg, Danish gourmet is celebrated at a wealth of fine restaurants.

Odense’s must-sees

- The Hans Christian Andersen Museum
- Egeskov Castle moated Renaissance castle
- Odense Zoo
- Kunsthallen Brandts Klædefabrik
- The Funen Village
- The Cathedral of Saint Knud (or Canute)

Aalborg’s must-sees

- Nordjyllands Kunstmuseum – art museum
- Jens Bangs Stenhus
- Aalborg Zoo
- Viking Museum and The Lindholm Høje Iron Age and Viking burial site
- The Aalborg Tower – lookout point
- Rebil Bakker – hilltops used as annual venue for the largest U.S. Independence Day celebrations outside America
- Jomfru Ane Gade

Gourmet foods makes souvenir shopping fun

Danish towns should be explored on foot – the intimacy of pedestrians streets; refreshments at sidewalk cafés; and your heart’s desire from the waffle bakeries and crêperies

Experience the back streets of Copenhagen

Cruise – sailing into town

A cruise to Denmark offers a relaxing holiday full of eventful experiences. You sail right into the heart of it all.

Copenhagen has been awarded Europe’s Leading Cruise Destination. Each year, nearly 300 ships dock at one of the city’s excellent cruise terminals on their way to other destinations in Denmark, Scandinavia and the Baltic nations.

It’s easy to add a few days at the beginning or end of a cruise itinerary to give you a chance to see all that Copenhagen has to offer.

The cruises dock at the Langelinie Pier close to all of the city’s sights, such as Nyhavn Canal with its vibrant cafés and restaurants – the pedestrian friendly city center with its world-class shopping – the Latin Quarter with its trendy boutiques - and the city’s newest waterside attraction, the Opera House.

Grand cruise ships call to port at Langelinie wharf, almost right in the heart of the city and quite close to Amalienborg Slot, which is the official Copenhagen residence of the Danish royal family

Enjoy good food at a wide variety of places

VisitDenmark.com

In Copenhagen, everything is within convenient walking distance – and shopping is world-class

Convivial atmosphere by Nyhavn Canal

A culture experience

Canal Harbor Tours a convenient and enjoyable way to go sightseeing in Copenhagen. The Little Mermaid sits at the harbor gazing out to sea greeting all visitors. Strøget a stroll down the main pedestrian street, Strøget, takes about 30 minutes and will take you from the most splendid plaza in town, Kongens Nytorv, to the Town Hall Square and the historic Tivoli Gardens.

Daytrips from Copenhagen could include Hamlet's castle Kronborg, the royal palaces of North Sealand, Louisiana Museum of Modern Art, Rungstedlund or the Viking Ship Museum in Roskilde. Danish international art treasures are exhibited in an array of fascinating museums, some of them are classical in their presentations of older and contemporary manifestations – others offer broad cultural information on the lives of Danes from ancient times to modern days.

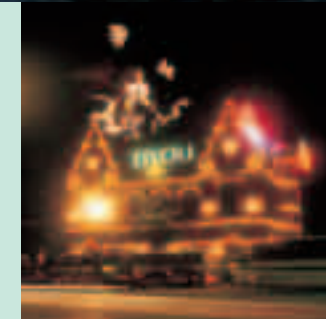

Louisiana Museum of Modern Art exhibits works of art by Danish and international artists. Statens Museum for Kunst, The Danish National Gallery, shows wide selections of historical and up-to-date paintings, sculptures and artistic installations. Nationalmuseet, Denmark's National Museum spans 2000 years of Nordic civilization from runic stones, burial graves, ancient weapons, clothes and other artifacts. The Viking Ship Museum is famous for its highly interesting finds of shipwrecks from the Danish Viking days and for its full-size scrupulous replicas. Hirschsprung Collection shows paintings and sketches from The Golden Age of Danish painting. Rungstedlund is the home of the famous Danish writer Karen Blixen. The Theatre Museum, The Danish Jewish Museum and many other sights and venues can be included in a visit to Denmark.

The Little Mermaid is greeting all visitors

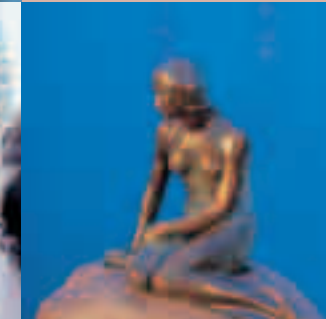

The Canal Harbor Tours, experience Copenhagen from the water side
www.kanalrundfart.dk

Tivoli, Copenhagen's beloved fairytale gardens www.tivoligardens.com

Museum of Danish National History in Frederiksborg Castle
www.frederiksborg-museet.dk

The Viking Ship Museum - Viking ships from the 11th century on display
www.vikingskibsmuseet.dk

Experience it all in real life - the Little Mermaid, the castles and Viking ships. Take a stroll on Copenhagen's principal pedestrian street, Strøget, and relax on one of the city's wonderful squares.

A holiday for body & soul

Forests are sanctuaries for the soul. Denmark's forests, which are all accessible and free, are among the most popular destinations for Danes. The color of the forest changes with the season – from the vernal green of the beech forests in May, carpeted with white anemone flowers, to the golden foliage of autumn, which has inspired many a Danish artist.

Forest paths are clearly marked and some accommodate bicycles. You can bring a picnic (many hotels offer a picnic hamper service), or relax at the many quaint restaurants and cafés bordering the woodlands. Bicycling is a very Danish way of getting around. It's a unique experience to feel the summer breeze in your hair as you ride along; to smell the sea and the fragrant summer fields, and perhaps a whiff of freshly baked bread from a baker's shop.

Cycling holidays offer a unique combination of exercise and fresh air. Denmark is ideal for touring by bicycle. There are no daunting mountains, only gently rolling hills. More than 10,000 km of designated cycle routes lead through some of the most beautiful parts of the country – and you can even book package cycling holidays.

Danish sweet peas should be enjoyed fresh from the pod

VisitDenmark.com

Riding a bicycle offers experiences you would never get in a car, such as romantic trips through the countryside where you can gather flowers and berries. You can rent a bike in most Danish towns

Try buying lunch at the best bakery in town

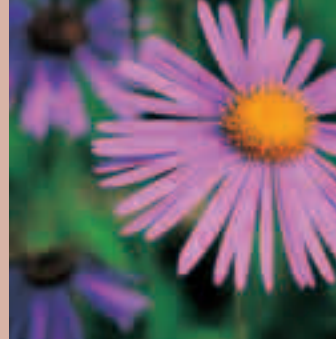

Danish nature – an experience for all

Botanical gardens, forests and wildflowers are abundant all across Denmark

Sauna and massage – all part of a Danish spa experience

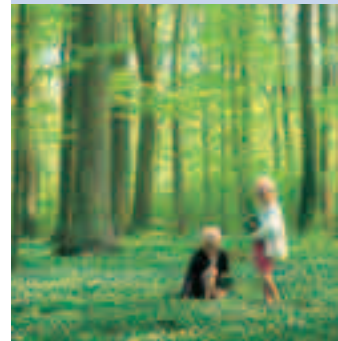

Active holiday

Walkers and ramblers will find much to explore in Denmark as well. In addition to the nature trails that lead through woodlands and national parks, there are routes that will lead you to ancient historic sites. Some back to the Iron Age or the days of the Vikings. Danes prize their unspoiled landscape, clean air and crystal clear water.

Denmark is also a wonderful country in which to swing your golf clubs. The season is long, the climate is temperate, and the rolling landscape is perfectly suited to the sport. There are even winter greens for dedicated players. We have more than 140 golf courses across the country. Visitors are welcome at many clubs and fees are moderate.

If you need to escape from the daily grind and thoroughly indulge yourself, a Danish spa holiday might just be the answer. Here you can recharge your batteries, both body and soul, and treat yourself to a massage, aromatherapy, yoga, and much more.

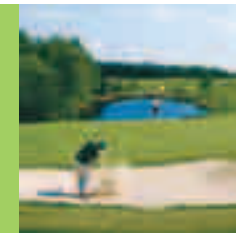

Visiting the forest in the spring is an exceptional experience where the light green canopy of the beech trees and the white anemone blossoms reach as far as the eye can see

Enjoying morning coffee with a sea view, listening to the cry of the seagulls, and falling asleep to the sound of breaking waves. A holiday by the Danish coast offers a sanctuary of peace and harmony

Denmark has some 7,300 km of coastline

In Denmark, golf is for everyone and greens are located in beautiful settings

Denmark For all seasons

Adventures in Denmark change with the season. When the ceaseless light of a Danish summer day eventually fades to deep winter, the Danes simply move the fun indoors.

The Royal Danish Ballet begins its season in Copenhagen in the fall and continues its exquisite program of ballet and theater through spring.

When autumn colors are brightest it is a lovely time to spend a weekend in some of our many castles or manor houses. And expect to find venison, pheasant and other wild game served by local restaurants during this season.

Visit in the winter and you will rejoice in the pure festivity and charm. To celebrate Christmas, everything is decorated with boughs of fresh greens and strings of twinkling lights. Visitors can take a spin with the ice skaters on a frozen lake, and warm themselves by the fireplace while sipping a cup of gløgg, our hot, spicy mulled wine.

Little elf looking forward to the holidays

Enjoy the spirit of the season at the Tivoli Christmas market

Autumn leaves decorate the parks

Fresh vegetables even in winter

Christmas parties – a great holiday tradition

Handcrafted Christmas decorations

Fun in the snow behind Statens Museum for Kunst – Denmark’s National Gallery

VisitDenmark.com

all seasons all seasons all seasons all seasons all seasons

Find and book your tickets at www.visitdenmark.dk

In 2006, Denmark celebrates The Year of the Renaissance. Experience the exciting culture, architecture, literature, music and pictorial art of this amazing epoch. www.renaissance2006.dk

Land of festivals

Nothing brings Danes closer together than a lively music festival where everyone seems more sociable and friendlier than ever. You'll always feel welcome. Festivals and events take place nationwide all year round. They offer first-hand experience of Danish culture and way of life as well as history, sport, music, food, art and culture.

In 2006, Denmark highlights an exciting and eventful period in Danish history with its Renaissance Year celebration. Landmark buildings, such as Kronborg Castle in Elsinore, Rosenborg Castle and the old Stock Exchange in Copenhagen, bear witness to this magnificent epoch.

All musical genres have their own festivals. Rock music festivals, complete with tent cities, often last for several days. Other events include folk and jazz music festivals and world-class classical concerts.

History is a great source of inspiration, of course, and dramatic eras, such as the Age of the Vikings and the Middle Ages, inspire several annual festivals. Sporting events are often for both spectators and participants alike, especially the annual marathons in Odense, Århus and Copenhagen, and along the west coast of Jutland.

Online booking visitdenmark.com Online booking visitdenmark.com

The annual Copenhagen Harbour Festival is celebrated in August

Tordenskioldsdage – The Year is 1717. Annual re-enactment in Frederikshavn of the sea battle between Denmark and Sweden.
www.tordenskiold.dk

The legendary Roskilde Festival features local as well as international artists.
www.roskilde-festival.dk

World famous opera and ballet - Copenhagen has it all. www.culturekick.dk or www.kgl-teater.dk

Major Events in 2006

Here is a list of selected major events in Denmark in 2006. For more information on events and online booking, visit our website, www.visitdenmark.com

All year: The Changing of the Guards at Amalienborg Palace takes place daily at exactly 12 o'clock noon (Copenhagen).

All year: The Royal Danish Ballet and the Royal Danish Opera. Season: August – June. Summer performances are also featured. The Royal Danish Theatre and the Copenhagen opera house, Operaen. www.kgl-teater.dk and www.culturekick.dk

16 January - 31 December: Renaissance 2006. This fascinating epoch in Danish and European history will be highlighted with a multitude of exciting events. www.renaissance2006.dk

4 February - 14 May: Rembrandt. The Danish National Gallery in Copenhagen, Statens Museum for Kunst, celebrates the 400th anniversary of the birth of the Dutch artist with an exhibition of Rembrandt paintings from the gallery's collection. But are they authentic? – That's what the exhibition sets out to reveal. www.smk.dk

Late March - late October: LEGOLAND. The Legoland theme park in Billund is open for the season (Jutland). www.legoland.dk

Mid-April - late September: Tivoli Gardens. The fairytale amusement park in the heart of Copenhagen is open for the season. www.tivoligardens.com

25 April - 28 May: Wagner's 'Der Ring des Nibelungen'. The full cycle of Wagner's 'The Ring' will be staged by the Royal Danish Opera. www.kgl-teater.dk and www.culturekick.dk

21 May: Wonderful Copenhagen Marathon through the streets of Copenhagen. www.sparta.dk

2 - 4 June: Carnival in Copenhagen. Latin-American rhythms and colourful street parades. www.karneval.dk

17 June: Århus Marathon. Denmark's most magnificent marathon route (East Jutland). www.aarhus1900.dk/marathon

June 23: Midsummer's Eve. Summer solstice is celebrated with bonfires and festivities throughout Denmark.

29 June - 2 July: Roskilde Festival. Europe's biggest 4-day rock festival (Sealand). www.roskilde-festival.dk

4 July: U.S. Independence Day, Rebildfesten. Danes and Americans of Danish descent celebrate U.S. Independence Day at the largest annual celebration of its kind outside the USA. www.rebildfesten.dk

7 - 16 July: Copenhagen Jazz Festival. Ten-day jazz festival of international standing. www.jazzfestival.dk

15 - 22 July: Århus International Jazz Festival. New and traditional jazz featured at open-air and indoor venues (East Jutland). www.visitaarhus.com

19 July - 13 August: The Hans Christian Andersen Festival. Open-air play in Odense performed by children (Funen). www.visitodense.com

3 - 6 August: Copenhagen Harbour Festival 2006. The annual harbour festival features cultural activities and pure fun. Free events include dance, music, theatre, street performances and sports activities, such as water sports. www.kulturhavn.dk

Mid-August: Copenhagen Fashion Week. www.denmarkfashion.dk & www.cphvision.dk

17 - 27 August: Copenhagen International Film Festival. www.copenhagenfilmfestival.com

25 - 26 August: The European Medieval Festival. Features more than 100.000 musicians and participants dressed in period costumes as knights, pilgrims and monks. Horsens (East Jutland). www.middelalderfestival.dk

1 - 10 September: The Århus Festival. The most comprehensive programme of any Danish annual cultural festival (Jutland). www.aarhusfestuge.dk

2 September - 7 January, 2007: L.A. Ring - On the Edge of the World. Exhibition of paintings by the Danish Realist and Symbolist painter Laurits Andersen Ring (1854-1933). The Danish National Gallery, Statens Museum for Kunst (Copenhagen). www.smk.dk

2 September - 14 January, 2007: Skagen – Summer Idyll and Working Life. Exhibition of paintings by Danish fin de siècle artists depicting the life and ambiance of the fishing hamlet Skagen at the tip of the Jutland peninsula. ARKEN Museum of Modern Art, Ishøj (south of Copenhagen). www.arken.dk

13 October: Night of Culture. An annual nocturnal cultural festival in Copenhagen featuring exciting indoor and outdoor activities and entertainment. www.kulturnatten.dk

November-December: Christmas Tables at Royal Copenhagen (Copenhagen). www.royalcopenhagen.com

Mid-November - late December: Tivoli Gardens Christmas Market (Copenhagen). www.tivoligardens.com

Mid-November - late December: Christmas in the Old Town of Aarhus. Exhibitions and Christmas markets set in the city's open-air urban heritage museum where history is brought to life. www.dengambleby.dk

If you like it, book it

Find all the travel information you need at www.visitdenmark.com

Browse events and activities. Access travel routes, background information, travel tips, and much more. Visit our website whether you are planning a family holiday, a business trip, or attending a conference.

Book online - Handy and free

What kind of accommodation are you looking for? Downtown or in the country? Find hotels, inns, holiday cottages, and youth hostels, and book your stay online. You can also check out events, concerts, and festivals, and make sure you get your tickets well in advance.

Hotel

Luxury or economy? Downtown or in the country? View accommodation options, check vacancies and book online.

Holiday Houses

Along the wild North Sea coast or in the trendy resort town of Tisvilde? Here we offer a wide choice of holiday cottages.

Hostels

Youth hostels are practical and affordable and located nationwide.

Events

What's on? And when? And for how long? Access a comprehensive list of events in Denmark, both large and small.

