Free events in Denmark [1]

Denmark has a world of free events on offer all year round, but especially in the summer months. Shake your stuff to Danish and international artists at a music festival, let your hair down at a harbour or city festival, or find that special item at an outdoor market.

Free music festivals in Denmark

Check out one of the many urban music festivals, such as Copenhagen Jazz Festival [2], Distortion or Aarhus Festival [3] and enjoy free music to your heart's content. Or why not visit Tønder [4] or Skagen Festivals and experience spontaneous street music in support of the main events?

Friday Rock at Tivoli

Tivoli Gardens [5], the world-famous fairground at the heart of Copenhagen, offers its visitors free concerts in the open air during the summer. You have to be in Tivoli Gardens though to enjoy the free Friday Rock [6] concerts, which means paying to get in!

Half-price theatre and cheap opera

Young people under 25 years-of-age can buy half-price tickets to the Royal Danish Theatre [7]. As well as this, there are numerous free events at the Royal Danish Theatre throughout the year for all ages. If you like the opera, you can get cheap tickets to the Danish National Opera [8] too - as long as you're prepared to stand up.

Other free events in Denmark

If you're looking for free fun, you could visit one of the summer's many city or harbour festivals, packed with music, entertainment and friendly Danes! Or why not visit one of the bigger outdoor markets? Finally, there are culture festivals all year round throughout Denmark definitely worth checking out.
